

Statutory research of Institute of Statistics and Demography in 2018

1. Subject: The changes in fertility in socio-economic and cultural contexts
Subject supervisor: Anita Abramowska-Kmon, PhD
2. Subject: Subjective well-being from the life course perspective
Subject supervisor: Anita Abramowska-Kmon, PhD
3. Subject: Lack of social participation and health and subjective well-being of persons aged 60 years and over
Subject supervisor: Radosław Antczak, PhD
4. Subject: Estimation of the National Transfer Accounts age profiles for Poland in 2016 - analysis of changes compared to previous years
Subject supervisor: Associate Professor Agnieszka Chłoń-Domińczak, PhD
5. Subject: Advanced business analytics - part II. Predictive models based on logistic regression
Subject supervisor: Associate Professor Ewa Frątczak, PhD
6. Subject: Changes in living conditions in the framework of the liveability concept in Poland in years 2005-2015 - on the basis of the Social Diagnosis Survey
Subject supervisor: Izabela Grabowska, PhD
7. Subject: Contingency analysis - theory, examples of applications
Subject supervisor: Aleksandra Iwanicka, PhD
8. Subject: Comparative analysis of the quality of life in Poland by voivodships in the Sen's capability approach concept
Subject supervisor: Professor Tomasz Panek
9. Subject: The statistical challenges in socio-economic modelling
Subject supervisor: Assistant Professor Jolanta Perek-Białas
10. Subject: Analysis of micro and small enterprises life cycle using survival models
Subject supervisor: Associate Professor Aneta Ptak-Chmielewska, PhD
11. Subject: Work ability and the stress at work in women in non-mobility age
Subject supervisor: Assistant Professor Dorota Raczekiewicz
12. Subject: Effects of tax incentives in supplementary old-age pensions
Subject supervisor: Joanna Rutecka-Góra, PhD
13. Subject: The impact of the changing educational attainment structure of Polish population by in the years 2017 -2060 on the potential economic growth
Subject supervisor: Paweł Strzelecki, PhD
14. Subject: Optimal monetary policy under agent heterogeneity
Subject supervisor: Associate Professor Adam Szulc, PhD
15. Subject: The health of women of reproductive age
Subject supervisor: Associate Professor Wiktoria Wróblewska, PhD